By WATSON SIMS

LONDON (U. S. A.) — John Foster Dulles and U. S. disarmament experts locked themselves in the American Embassy today to work out detailed plans for a limited "open skies" disarmament accord with Russia.

"The plan to spend the entire morning in talks," a spokesman said as the U. S. secretary of state closed himself with Harold Stassen and other American officials.

Stassen heads the American delegation to the five-power U. N. Disarmament Subcommittee which has bogged down here after five months of negotiations.

Dulles arranged to sit in later on a strategy meeting of the four Western delegations to the talks, representing the United States, Britain, France and Canada.

Also on tap for Dulles was a meeting with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to discuss a wide range of diplomatic issues, including the tribal uprising in Sudan and Oman.

The immediate issue in the disarmament negotiations is the forthcoming presentation of a U. S. plan for aerial inspection between Russia and the West.

Some Western observers interpreted Dulles' first statements here as an indication of the West is less hopeful than before of obtaining a broader disarmament treaty at this time, and that he will attempt to salvage some sort of agreement on aerial inspection in certain areas on both sides of the Iron Curtain to prevent massing of men and armaments for an attack.

Couple Jailed for Beating Son to Death

By KREUZNACH, Germany (U. S. A.)

The U. S. Army announced today a Knoxville, Tenn., soldier and his wife have been sentenced to three years in prison for beating their 14-month-old son to death.

An Army court-martial convicted Specialist 2 C. James W. Dial and his wife Joanne of involuntary manslaughter. Dial was ordered dishonorably discharged from the Army with the loss of all pay and allowances.

The sentences are subject to review by higher military authorities.

Witnesses at the trial testified the couple beat the child severely with a web belt, pieces of wood and an electric cord for several weeks before his death May 21.

The couple admitted the beatings, saying they acted in fits of temper because the child cried constantly and refused to eat.

The Supreme Court on June 19 ruled that military trials of two women who killed their servicemen husbands overseas were unconstitutional. The court's 6-2 vote left unsettled, however, whether courts martial might try civilians accompanying the armed forces abroad for crimes involving punishment short of a possible death penalty.

Esso to Cut Back Price of Crude Oil

NEW ORLEANS (U. S. A.) — Crude oil purchases for the Baton Rouge plant of Esso Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey are due for a 15 per cent reduction Aug. 1.

The cutback announced by Esso yesterday fulfilled a prediction made a week earlier by State Conservation Commissioner John B. Hussey. The announcement said the company would "make every effort to minimize the duration of the cutback."

A. J. Ferguson of Shreveport, manager of the crude oil purchasing department for Esso, said the move was the result mainly of reduced production requirements.

Only Louisiana and Mississippi production was listed under the cutback.

A survey by the Times-Picayune showed other refiners in this area were not planning to curtail purchases at this time.

Indiana Oil Purchasing Co., crude oil buyers for the American Oil Co. refinery at Detroit, said the firm does not plan to start "pipeline rationing" in the area at this time. The company has been able to dispose of surplus oil in the area.

Ingram Oil and Refining Co. is operating a plant at Maestri, and Shell Oil Co. which operates a refinery at Norco, reported no plans for reducing purchases.

Skid Row Bachelors Leave $100,000

PORTLAND, Ore. (U. S. A.) — Two bachelor brothers who for the past 10 years have lived in cheap hotels in Portland's skid row district left estates totaling nearly $100,000.

They were Arthur Kneubehler, 78, who died June 6, and his brother Julius, 78, who died July 22, both retired farmers from Clatsop County, Wash.

Their only known survivor is a sister who is a patient in the state mental hospital.

Atty. Karl F. Glos, administrator of the estate, today said Arthur's estate probably will total $75,000. Julius is valued at $20,000.

The attorney said he met Julius when he sought aid in probating Arthur's estate. He said the brothers perished a family fiasco until they sold it and moved to Portland about 10 years ago. They made much of their money in the stock market and kept it in as many as a dozen banks. Glos said "they were pretty smart" about the stock market deals.

Glos said Julius lived a quiet life "just sitting around living off his interest. And now then he drank a little wine."

"I tried to talk him into living a little better but he said he liked it down there" on skid row, Glos said.

Welfare Opens Confidential Patient Files

LITTLE ROCK (U. S. A.) — The State Welfare Department has opened its confidential files to county and municipal officials to determine if some patients at the State Medical Center are being improperly assigned under the new quota system.

Under the system, local government units exceeding their quota of patients must pay for their care or have a portion of state aid withheld.

Patients admitted as part of their welfare assistance are not supposed to be charged against the quota.

The new system has caused complications for Little Rock, North Little Rock and Pottsville County, whose quotas were soon exceeded.

The Welfare Department directed authorized municipal and county officials to inspect records to determine if some patients had been charged against the quotas who could have received welfare aid. The records customarily are confidential.

Rocket Soars 140 Miles Into Air

ST. CHURCHILL, Man. (U. S. A.) — The fifth successful rocket in the U. S. International Geophysical Year program blasted 140 miles into the air yesterday from its launching tower near this U. S. Canadian army base.

The Aerobeh rocket's altitude was 20 miles short of the local record of 160 miles, set July 4 by the initial rocket fired in the IGY program.

The rockets transmit by radio information on air pressures, densities, temperatures, X-ray absorption and cosmic rays.

U.S. Romantic About 2 Periods in Our History

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U. S. A.) — There are two periods in our history about which Americans are incurably romantic — the "Gay nineties" and the "Roaring twenties."

Time has removed from the earthly scene most of those old enough to relish the tang of the gay nineties, but millions are still alive whose youth coincided with those years of the grasshopper between the end of the first World War and the beginning of the depression — the so-called jazz age.

And at the first twinkling notes of an old Irving Berlin tune, many will drop nostalgic tears in their beards.

There has been a great revival of interest in "the jazz age" and many of today's serious, security-minded young people are inclined to ask rather crossly, "Just what was so wonderful about it anyway?"

They feel like maybe they have missed something. And any man or woman over 50 is inclined to feel they missed considerable.

Just what they missed is more

Rainstorms Lash Many Sections of Arkansas

By The Associated Press

Summertime thunderstorms, accompanied by strong winds, belted portions of Arkansas last night, dumping heavy amounts of rain on north central and eastern sections of the state and causing scattered property damage.

No injuries were reported.

Lightning ripped into the home of Mrs. M. J. Best and her daughter at Little Rock, shattering a wall and causing some roof damage to the bedroom in which they were sleeping. Both escaped injury.

Neighbors said they saw a "ball of fire" roll into the house. A lightning bolt also caused slight damage to the G. A. Tannehill home at Jonesboro.

Hail struck a farming section northeast of Searcy, damaging crops, roofs and parked automobiles. Residents described some of the hailstones as "big as a man's fist."

A visitor of the office of the Searcy Citizen displayed a badly battered pumpkin which he said had been pelted by the hail.

Searcy reported 4.33 inches of rain in a 24-hour period ending at 7 a. m. today. Most of it fell during a two-hour period, starting about 8:30 last night.

The storm caused considerable damage at Pine Bluff. Electric power was disrupted, at least three plate glass windows were shattered, three were blown down and some bricks on an upper story of a downtown building were knocked out of place.

Trees were uprooted at Newport.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock said the heaviest rain fell across north central Arkansas. A fall of more than four inches was reported at several White County towns, besides Searcy.

A deluge of 4.02 inches was measured at Georgetown. Bald Knob reported 4.77 inches and Judsonia, 4.78 inches.

Other reported quantities were: 3.83 at Heber Springs, 2.83 at Bradford, 2.57 at Clarendon, 2.10 at Pine Bluff, 1.94 at Salem, 1.74 at Little Rock, 1.73 at Walnut Ridge, 1.58 at Newport, 1.43 at Mammoth Spring, 1.04 at Batesville and .02 at El Dorado.

Monoxide Ends Yacht Cruise With 3 Deaths

HONOLULU (U. S. A.) — A Hawaiian racing cruise ended in death by carbon monoxide poisoning for three members of a yachting party aboard Richard A. Dole's Type.

The three victims were over-coming yesterday while they napped below decks after Dole started the engines of his 34-foot yawl.

They were Patricia Peterson, 21, Wayne Curry, 19, and Raymond L. Watson, 35, all of Honolulu.

Dole, son of James Dole, founder of the Hawaiian Pineapple Co., said he started the engines about 8 a. m. to hurry the Type's return after a weekend race from Honolulu to Kauai Island.

Dole's wife Jean and the three others went below to rest. Dole went below about 10 a. m. to wake the sleepers. Mrs. Dole was all right. But the three others were unconscious.

Guide Assigned to Blind U. S. Scholar

ROGERS, Mo. — A blind Fulbright scholar says the British arrangement to provide him with a personal guide while keeping his seeing-eye dog in quarantine for six months is acceptable to him.

Davis Duty said here yesterday, however, that "this setup isn't perfect."

The British, refusing to waive their quarantine law despite plea by U. S. officials, offered to intern the dog, Blinney, near the University of London where Duty will study international public law.

Duty will be furnished a personal guide, probably from student volunteers. He will be allowed to visit and work with the dog as she will not lose her usefulness as a guide.

Duty at first refused to go overseas if it meant a prolonged separation from his dog.

"I am looking forward to a year in England," he said yesterday. He and Blinney sail for London Sept. 6.

Child Rescued From Well After 4 Hours

ANDERSON, S. C. (U. S. A.) — "We are for God right now!" shouted someone in the crowd.

The crowd roared in agreement as a weary man climbed out of the 40-foot well shaft holding a grimy baby in his arms.

"She's okay," yelled rescuer Red Roberts.

But for four terrible hours last night, no one could be sure 17-month-old Yvonne Beasley would come out alive. Her 3-year-old brother Richard David went with his parents, begging for his sister to come out of the hole.

"That's all he kept saying the whole time," Mrs. J. B. Beasley said today. "He just kept crying and saying, 'I want my sister to come out of the well.'"

Richard and his chubby, brown-haired, blue-eyed sister were playing in the yard yesterday afternoon when the child fell into the well.

"Richard came running in the house crying, 'Sister fell in the hole and got hurt,' the 28-year-old mother said.

"I ran out, but I never thought of the old well pipe. It's away from the house and covered with a bucket held down by a 12-pound stone. I ran right past it."

"I ran into the front yard and then back again and then I heard her crying and calling 'Mommy, mommy, mommy.'"

"I ran out in the road and tried to stop a car. We don't have any phone and there aren't any neighbors close. I ran and screamed but nobody would stop. I guess they thought it was some family fight."

"Finally, after about 20 minutes a car stopped and a woman got out and came with me. Her husband went to phone the firemen."

"We ran to the well, but I couldn't even see Yvonne. But I could hear her crying. She cried the whole time."

The Beasleys live about seven miles from town on a little road off the highway. The young mother was alone because her husband was going to a GI class at the Anderson High School. He was summoned home.

The child was wedged almost at the bottom of the narrow drill pipe of the old well. Doctors supervised piping oxygen to her while drilling experts bored a parallel well 40 feet deep and removed a section of pipe and an old bucket stuck in the pipe joint to reach her.

Gar Fishing Subject of Lions Meet

Hope Lions Club met yesterday noon at the Hotel Barlow for its regular weekly luncheon and business meeting. There were 53 members and 14 guests present.

Al Page was in charge of the program and presented a film titled "Fighting Gar Fish," courtesy of Duffie Hardware Company, in connection with the film.

J. D. Boswell displayed the 157 pound Alligator Gar to the club, that he and Fay James caught last week. New members taken into the club were Andy Andrews, Jimmy Wingfield, Floyd Leverett and Lawrence May.

Guests of the club were: J. D. Boswell, William Roy Tooley, W. Cobb, Fred Ellis, Alex H. Washburn, Sam Jones, Dick Pierce, Dub Flowers, Wayne Taylor, James Bowman, Sam Green, William Garrett, Dale Dunn, Paul Ingram and Allan Howard.

President Cline Franks announced that Lion Kinnard Young has been appointed the new Zone chairman for this area in recognition of his many years active service to the organization.

Navy Reserve Electronics Unit Formed

Max D. Bolar

A Naval Reserve Electronics Battalion has been established at the Camden Naval Reserve Center during July. It will be under the command of Commander Max D. Bolar, Naval Reserve officer of Hope, Arkansas. In civilian life Commander Bolar is a staff forester with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. His headquarters are at Hope.

The newly established battalion will consist of two electronics divisions which will be commanded by Lieutenant Commanders Jack H. Thornton and Melvin Butler, both of El Dorado.

The purpose of the Camden Electronics Battalion is to train young Reservists in electronics fields and to develop petty officers for the Naval Reserve.

Pay billets are open for young men in the 17-18½ year age class, and there are several billets for Naval Reserve officers. Young men from Ouachita and surrounding counties are invited to visit the Naval Reserve Center in order to obtain information about the Reserve. The Reserve Center is located three miles north of Camden on Highway 79.

Commander Bolar is a graduate of Louisiana State University in the School of Forestry. During World War I he served four years in the Navy Reserve, with duty in both the Atlantic and the Southwest Pacific theaters. He received a commendation from Vice Admiral Robert P. Giffon for his deep sea diving work in raising a sunken Navy vessel from one hundred and three feet of water. During the Korean War he was recalled to three years of active duty as Executive Officer to the Naval Port Control Officer of the harbor of San Diego.

At the statewide 4-H Club meeting at the University of Arkansas, Kaye Burke of Hempstead County took third place in Handicraft method demonstration.

Southland Withdraws Request for Meet

LITTLE ROCK (U. S. A.) — Southland Radio Corp. has withdrawn a request for another 50-day meet at the West Memphis dog track because as General Manager W. Frank Hobbs puts it, "We don't want to be hogtied."

Hobbs said yesterday it was doubtful if a second 50-day meet here is a local Southland will ask for two 50-day meets next year, Hobbs said.

A meeting of the Arkansas State Racing Commission, scheduled to convene at West Memphis, was canceled after the request was withdrawn.

Reform Group Has a Lead in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (U. S. A.) — Argentina's moderate forces backing Provisional President Pedro Aramburu's drive for constitutional reform were sure today of a comfortable majority in the constituent assembly. But political leaders still argued the meaning of the election results.

The arguments raked from victory claim by anti-reform forces and shout of triumph by Peronista diehards to assurances from Aramburu that the balloting Sunday proved Argentina's will to live democratically.

Tallying of 8,231,688 votes—more than 80 percent of the total registered voters—showed that 2,030,140, or just under 25 per cent, had headed ex-dictator Juan Peron's command to cast blank ballots.

This fell far short of Peron's boast from Caracas that 75 per cent of the Argentines would answer his call. But those who did still constituted the country's largest single faction, still faithful to the outlawed Peronist party and its exiled leader.

Close behind in second place was the middle-of-the-road Radical Wing led by Ricardo Balbin. It had polled 2,007,500 votes on a pledge to amend the 1953 constitution as Aramburu has demanded, to cut the executive power so that no dictator can take over again.

Final Rites Held for Mrs. P. R. Nesbitt

Final rites for Mrs. P. R. Nesbitt, aged 98, who died at her home in Blewins July 25, were held at Marlboro Presbyterian Church Sunday by the Rev. Bruce Boone of Texarkana, assisted by the Rev. Riley and the Rev. Mr. Horton of Blewins. She had lived in Blewins for the past 45 years.

Survivors include: three sons, W. L. and N. P. Nesbitt of Blewins, Y. M. Nesbitt of Little Rock; four daughters, Misses Edna Nesbitt of Blewins and Lola Nesbitt of Shreveport; Mrs. J. E. Breeze of Houston and Mrs. Leroy Mazling of Shreveport.

The newspaper which goes to 1,500 Beaumont high school students, contains all news of interest such as gossip, sports, fashion, feature and specially columns. The interest here is the fact it was originated by a native of Hope, Albert "Sonny" Fink, a 16-year-old junior in high school and the son of former Hope Mayor Albert Fink. The newspaper has served to bring youths of Beaumont closer together and this helps solve many problems.

Cabot Official Feud Is Again Delayed

LITTLE ROCK Another phase of the legal feuding between Cabot Mayor Ernest Bailey and Cabot Justice of the Peace A. B. (Bun) Robinson was delayed yesterday by the illness of Chancellor Guy E. Williams of Little Rock.

A contempt hearing for Robinson was rescheduled from Aug. 6 to Sept. 20 at Lonke. Robinson has been ordered to show cause why he should not be held in contempt for defying an order not to hear a Cabot privilege tax case.

Robinson fined Mayor Ernest Bailey and six other Cabot residents at the hearing several weeks ago for failure to pay a privilege tax.

South Side of Chicago Poses New Threats

CHICAGO (U. S. A.) — Chicago's police Task Force moved into the race-troubled South Side last night as threats of fresh disorders arose.

The Task Force—a special unit designed to move into any trouble spot and quell disorder—broke up a milling crowd of more than 1,000. Four parked cars reportedly owned by Negroes had been stoned and stones were thrown at others driven by Negroes. No injuries were reported.

Police seized 35 persons, including several white teenagers for questioning. Four Negroes were arrested for carrying concealed weapons.

About 200 policemen were assigned to the mixed, predominantly white district after a day of no disorders following Sunday's rioting which brought some 300 policemen to the scene.

The first outbreak of violence occurred in Calumet Park. Last night's most serious disturbance was with a crowd concentrated on the four corner of 126th Street and Ewing intersection.

Police had to club back the crowd after seizing a tear-gas can which threw an exploding firecracker under a police car.

Police Commissioner Timothy O'Connor appeared at the scene before midnight and directed his men to clear the area. The crowd then stretched along a six-block area, but many lingered or returned after police moved on to other portion of the crowd.

No Negroes were in the area but the crowd kept up crying anti-Negro remarks.

J. W. Wardlaw, 86, Dies Tuesday at McCaskill

Youthful Bar Asso Chief Urges Peace

LONDON (AP)—Charles E. Rhyno, inaugurated today as the youngest president in the history of the American Bar Association called on the world's lawyers to develop a body of atomic-era law under which the world may live in peace.

"Either we must learn to live with the expanding forces of the atom," the 45-year-old Washington, D. C. attorney warned the association's 80th annual convention, "or we must die, as the victims of those forces."

Rhyno cautioned his profession that in developing national and international law for the atomic age, "we must be ever watchful that the steps we take promote the freedom of man, not his enslavement."

"We must recognize," he continued, "that however much we might wish to keep the benefits of nuclear science for ourselves, we cannot do it and must not alienate it. They belong to the world."

But our arrangements for sharing our knowledge with others, and for using the knowledge they are willing to share with us, for the joint benefit of all of us, must be planned and executed intelligently and carefully.

Rhyno also called on the association, the world's largest legal organization, to work to put life into the law commission of the United Nations and to make the International Court of Justice at The Hague more acceptable as a forum for settling international disputes.

Rhyno, a native of Charlotte, N. C., took over from David Maxwell of Philadelphia.

Woman Identifies Slayer's Escort

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Negro coded yesterday identified 52-year-old Leo Lee as the Negro intruder who shot his escort to death, then raped her and forced her to perform acrobatic acts on the night of last Dec. 26.

The 19-year-old Little Rock girl, who attends a college in Michigan, gave the testimony before an all-white male jury as an estimated 400 persons, mostly Negroes, jammed Pulaski Circuit Court.

Lee is charged with the murder of Negro postman, William R. Smith during an attempt to rape the girl. Prosecutor J. Frank Holt

Faubus to Decide Fate of Leggett

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus today said he would make a decision before the end of this week whether he will grant clemency to Emmett Earl Leggett, 20, under a death sentence for killing a 14-year-old boy.

Leggett was convicted of the strangling of Joe King, stepson of sergeant, Dec. 23, 1955.

Faubus has had the case before him for several months since the Arkansas Supreme Court upheld the conviction.

Faubus disclosed some time ago that he had a number of requests to commute the death sentence to one of life imprisonment on ground Leggett is mentally unbalanced. State Hospital physicians testified Leggett is sane.

If the governor refuses clemency, he must set a date for Leggett's execution. The original date passed while the case was pending on appeal.

Doesn't Care Just Which Came First

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP)—Chicken farmer John Delaporte isn't interested in what came first, the chicken or the egg. He wants to know what to expect next.

Delaporte has a hen who laid 17 eggs in a five-day period, and he's taken the energetic Leghorn to Rutgers University's agriculture experiment station for observation.

The 2-year-old hen is one of several hundred homeless and hither-to unsexed chickens on Delaporte's farm in Reaville near Flemington. But she's in a class by herself. Her total production last week weighs two pounds, about half her body weight.

Delaporte first noticed this particular hen July 21, when temperatures pushed toward 100 degrees.

All the chickens on the farm had begun to show the effects of the heat, but this hen looked ready to pass out, and Delaporte dumped her in a bucket of water.

She revived and the next day, Monday, laid an egg. She had no eggs Tuesday, but Wednesday she laid three, Thursday four and Friday five.

Delaporte, figuring he was the victim of a practical joke, wanted to have the last crack. He locked the hen in a coop and kept a close watch during the weekend.

But the bird didn't seem to mind her lack of privacy. She laid four eggs Saturday and three Sunday.

With that, Delaporte decided to give science the bird. A member of the experiment station staff fetched her yesterday and experts were considering taking X-rays to see if she has two oviducts.

At any rate, the excitement of travel to a large university campus seems to have affected the hen where heat and confinement did not. Her total production yesterday added up to a big goose egg.

One Killed, Three Hurt in Accident

COTTON PLANT, Miss.—A car crashed into a bridge abutment on State Highway 17 nine miles north of here today, killing one man and injuring three other persons, one of them critically.

State Trooper Joe Cosner said the front seat of the demolished car had to be removed before the body of Charles Hunter, 20, of Lake Village and critically injured Herman McHan, 39, also of Lake Village, could be freed from the wreckage.

Also hurt were McHan's sisters, Nancy, 12, and Shirley, 17, who were hospitalized at Brickley. The older sister was described by hospital attendants as in serious condition.

McHan was taken to a Little Rock hospital.

McHan is a cousin of Lamar McHan, former University of Arkansas star football back and now a professional football player.

Man Illustrates His Complaints

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Benton S. Asbury, a socially gentleman with an agile body used acrobatics to add vigor to a complaint made at the mayor's weekly beef session.

Asbury, 77, showed up to complain about drainage, swearing and drinking in Central Park. He said the drainage was "so bad" that when it rained and about drinking and swearing "disturbed his pinhole's games with cronies."

He topped his complaint off with a nearly executed acrobatic split in front of city officials. They promised to see what could be done about his complaints.

Bookkeeper Gets Jail Sentence

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A woman bookkeeper with money to burn has been sentenced to the women's prison at Corona for grand theft.

Superior Judge Louis H. Burke yesterday ordered a term of from 10 to 40 years for Paige Marjorie Wright, 41, on her plea of guilty to stealing from her former employer, the Hunt Transfer Co.

Investigators said the firm estimated its losses at $20,000. When arrested, the defendant told police she had spent about $5,000 on clothing and a new car, and "burned all the rest" to keep friends from becoming suspicious.

After a meeting of Southern Democrats who are fighting the civil rights bill that they will raise no objection to a two-day armistice in the Senate battle over the measure.

Republican Senate Leader Knowland of California said earlier that backers of the bill are determined to keep the Senate in session all winter, if necessary to pass what they regard as an effective bill.

Knowland has said he would not object to a short break in the civil rights debate, proposed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader.

Johnson had announced he would seek a unanimous agreement for the Senate to take up compromise versions of the defense and agricultural appropriations bills, as well as several other pieces of legislation.

Russell said that if Knowland's remark about a session lasting all winter turns out to be a correct prediction, the Southerners will be

Stock feet: "We've got the best judges money can buy."

It was a time of liberty and license, of great literary experiment, of personal freedom, when there were still plenty of rules—but the rules were made to be broken.

It was a time of great heroes—Gertrude Ederle, Charles Lindbergh, Jack Dempsey, Babe Ruth, Bobby Jones, Bill Tilden, Red Grasso, Clarence Darrow, H. L. Menckan.

And it was a time of terrible bums, including such gangster gentry as Al Scarface, Capone and Dutch Schultz.

There were more than 600 gangster murders during the prohibition period in Chicago alone, and Capone's beer-brothel-gambling empire reached an income of $10,000,000 in a single year. Capone told a woman reporter, "They talk about me not being on the legitimate. Why, lady, nobody's on the legit when it comes down to cases, you know that."

It was a time when the flapper tried to prove she could do anything a man could—but actually succeeded only in being the worst-dressed woman in the history of mankind.

The symbol of the jazz age was a lonely trumpet stuttering in a smoke-filled speakeasy. The word that describes it best is probably "excess." Movie star Pola Negri spent $3,000 for mourning weeds. It was reported after the death of Rudolph Valentino.

It was a time when anyone who didn't plunge in Wall Street was a sissy. And it all came to an end after this October panic of 1929 started selling waves that wiped out 30 billion dollars in paper values. The depression was the hangover that followed.

Looking back on the jazz age, Scott Fitzgerald, its prose poet, summed up:

"It was an age of miracles. It was an age of art. It was an age of excess and it was an age of satire. I can only cry out that I have lost my splendid mirage. Come back, come back, to glittering and white."

A few people today really want the jazz age back. But it had its value. As author Sand concludes: "It was a time when the world was wild and family tragic but never dull. The twenties weren't wasted at all. The wide and wonderful land came of age."

mediate SOS, the submarine Sterlet came alongside with a Navy doctor flown by helicopter to the Sterlet.

The doctor said two victims apparently were dead before being transferred to the submarine. The third died shortly after.

Dole, shaken and weary, would not talk with reporters when he walked off the Sterlet at Pearl Harbor.

Charles H. Dole, Richard's brother, said Richard told him the engines were running, but port holes and hatches were open.

"There was plenty of ventilation," Charles Dole said. "It must have been one of those strange things that happen."

Russell said the Dixie Democrats feel that if the Senate doesn't complete other legislative work because of the civil rights debate, the responsibility will be Knowland's.

Man Confesses to Sheppard Slaying

DELAND, Pa., (AP) — Donald J. Wedler today signed a statement that he killed Marilyn Sheppard, a Cleveland attorney for Dr. Samuel Sheppard reported.

William Corrigan said the 23-year-old Florida convict "willingly signed the statement in the presence of Sheriff's Deputies Howard Demott and Jack Lynskey."

"The attorney's belief in Wedler's story is directly opposed to conclusions of Cleveland police officials after they talked with the prisoner a week ago."

Dr. Samuel Gerber, coroner of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, and James McArthur, former chief of Cleveland detectives, said Wedler knew only as much about the sensational July 4, 1954, slaying case as he might have read in newspapers and magazines.

He knew no details, Gerber and McArthur said.

Corrigan, on the other hand, said "I think this guy did it." The lawyer who defended Dr. Sheppard in the trial which resulted in his conviction for the slaying of his wife and a life term, said:

"The confession of this man fits in with so many of the details with which he is familiar and convinces us beyond doubt that Donald Joseph Wedler is guilty of murder."

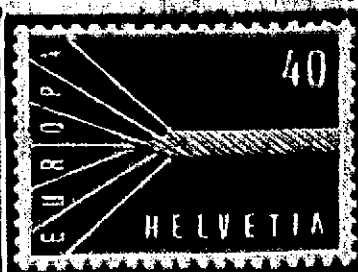

"We plan to move immediately in the State of Ohio to bring this case to a successful conclusion."

"There's nobody who can set aside a confession of this nature with all its possibilities."

How Corrigan would bring a murder charge against Wedler before a grand jury for indictment was not disclosed. Such a step would be necessary to bring him to trial in Ohio.

Corrigan said the Cleveland officers who saw Wedler last week and branded his story a hoax "obviously came down here with their minds made up."

Girl Arraigned for Slaying Roommate

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—Elizabeth Soule, 19-year-old secretary from Freeport, N. Y. spoke but few words yesterday when she was arraigned in municipal court for the slaying of her roommate, Catherine Elvins.

She convicted Judge J. A. Branson when he pronounced her name as "Miss Soule." The blonde girl said it was "Soulay."

When she answered "yes" to a question as to whether that was her correct name.

The judge fixed Aug. 7 for the date of her plea.

Police say the girl has admitted slaying her Seattle roommate, also 19, in their nearby Building apartment last Wednesday.

As Miss Soule left the courtroom her father, Frank, who had flown here from Freeport, hurried to catch her. He held her hand tightly when she descended to stairs leading to the police car.

He kissed her on the cheek as a matron escorted her to a car for the trip back to the jail.

"Goodbye, sweetie," he called. She did not answer.

Her attorney, John McKenna said he would have his fall client examined by a psychiatrist.

Bodies Sought in Ruined Buildings

By JIMMIE S. PAYNE

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A crew of 500 men dug into the ruins of an apartment building today, seeking the last victims of Sunday's earthquake.

The five-story apartment house which crumbled into a pile of concrete and dust was the worst death trap of the 50 old buildings that collapsed in the capital.

By early today 32 bodies had been pulled from the rubble and another victim had died in a hospital. This brought the number of known dead in Mexico City to 52 and the total for the country to 68. All were Mexicans.

There were unconfirmed reports that a family on the lower floor of the apartment house had been having a large party at the time of the quake. Officials believed more bodies would be found.

DOROTHY DIX

If You Caught a Man, You Can Make Friends!

Dear Dorothy Dix: How can I make and keep friends? It's so hard for me to understand people. Everything they say I take so seriously and it bothers me.

I worry over whether people like me or not and usually I decide they don't. When I really become acquainted with people I'm all right, but strangers throw me for a loop. I'm sure everyone is smarter than I am, more capable and talented, hence they naturally would consider me a dope. I dearly love people and want to enjoy being with them.

MRS. L.

Dear Mrs. L.: No girl who has managed to attract a "Mrs." to her name is a complete social flop. So let's carry on from there.

You are probably too intense about the impression you are making. You make people nervous instead of relaxed. The tanning down process can be done nicely, but it's a tough job.

Your best bet is to join a class or course in personality development, or some allied subject, that will bring you in contact with other people in the same predicament as you. The Y. W. C. A. usually has these classes or you might try the Dale Carnegie Institute, which does a successful job of overcoming inferiority complexes. You could wait till fall and enroll in a course at the state university located in your home town (you are very lucky in that respect).

I'll be happy to recommend a list of books that will help you. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for the BUILDING CONFIDENCE book list.

If you can fully appreciate one fact, your battle will be half won. Other people are just like you; they want to be liked and want to get responses. They would much rather admire than criticize; they want to accept rather than reject. Give the other fellow a chance.

Dear Dorothy Dix: When a girl and boy decide to go steady, is the girl supposed to give him a gift?

PATTI

Dear Patti: Not unless this is a new wrinkle you kids have thought up. "Going Steady" can, and often does, mean an association of a few weeks. It could be quite a strain on a school girl's budget to buy a gift for every steady she requires.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband is a wonderful father, but I can't say he's a loving husband. He works hard, gives us everything he can but he never says he loves me. Do you think there is some one else?

I'm pretty and want him to tell me so. I feel he doesn't need me. Should I stay with him for the baby's sake?

DILLY

Dear Dilly: Stay for your sake, the baby's and your husband's! While it is very nice to be told you are loved, there are other — and more important — ways for a husband to show his devotion. Love, talk doesn't come easy to some men.

Apparently you were the belle of the ball at school. The flattery you received there should brighten your life for quite a spell.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Ten years ago I was engaged to Boyd, who loved me very much. When he went overseas, I was lonely and dated Tom. I married him. We have two children. Now Boyd has moved back to our town; he's married and has two youngsters. We find our love is still there. Tom will agree to a divorce and so will Boyd's wife. I'll keep my two children. Do you think everything will work out for us?

KATRINE

Dear Katrina: To satisfy your "love" — which couldn't even weather the storm of a temporary separation — you'd make a mess of six or seven other lives! Does that make sense? Your respective spouses may agree to divorce, but they certainly won't be happy about it. All four kids will surely be miserable, so what's the percentage? Be adult and stick with what you've got.

Limit of Oil Imports Gets Much Praise

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new government effort to limit oil imports drew praise today from oil state congressmen but howls from New England senators.

A volunteer import curb which the White House said "could lead to mandatory controls" if it is violating was asked by President Eisenhower yesterday. He called for a 10 per cent cut in oil imports by companies east of the Rockies. It is designed to assure a high rate of domestic oil production of South American oil ship-national defense.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) said a reduction of South American oil shipments to New England "will surely result in a price rise in the near future," and added, "In fact, that is the purpose of the order."

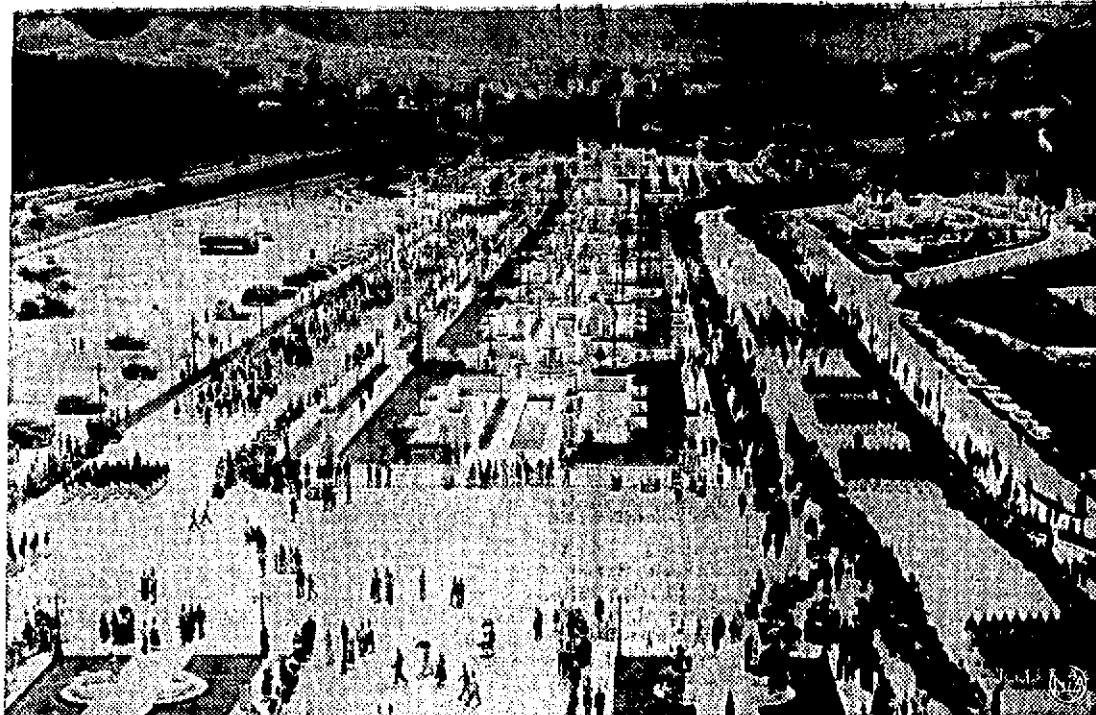

Sen. Payne (R-Maine) called it "shocking favoritism for the oil industry which already enjoys preferential tax privileges denied other industries."

McClellan Has No Presidential Aims

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said yesterday "I certainly have no ambitions to become a candidate for vice president, President or anything else."

Appearing on the television program "Dateline Washington" McClellan also left upon the air his plans for seeking re-election in 1960 to a fourth Senate term.

"I possibly some day would like to return to the Senate," he said, "McClellan's comments were HEROES HONORED—Like a page from the archives of ancient Rome, Venezuela dedicates a breathtaking memorial to her statesmen and national heroes—high point in a week-long celebration of her 146th year of independence. Known as the "Avenue of Heroes," it is an 800-foot-long art extravaganza comprised of two 100-foot towers, 10 huge bronze statues of Venezuela's heroes, six reflecting pools, 84 giant flower urns, and dozens of smaller statues and fountains. More than 100,000 persons turned out in Caracas for the official dedication of the three-million-dollar memorial.

Aluminum Co. Hikes Prices Cent Pound

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Aluminum Co. of America today lifted the price of basic aluminum pig one cent a pound, effective Aug. 1. The new price is 28 cents a pound.

Alcoa said the price change on basic aluminum pig will be accompanied by advances in the price of alloy grades of pig and ingot and other products, amounting to about four per cent. The hike in aluminum prices was expected. Under terms of a 1947 agreement governing price paid employees, Alcoa will in effect on Aug. 1 wage and employee benefit provisions for 1957.

Debates Put Congress Behind Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP)—The civil rights debate has put the Senate far behind its work and Congress may have to stay in session well beyond Labor Day.

Current estimates on congressional adjournment range from Aug. 17 to far into September.

The timetable depends in large part on how much longer the Senate will be involved in the civil rights battle.

Five appropriations bills including the $33,750,000 defense money measure—are among matters awaiting action.

The House has been moving ahead with legislation while the Senate has been pinned down in the civil rights fight. In all, 175 bills now are backed up on the Senate calendar, although most of them are minor.

Republican and Democratic leaders say they believe it will take about two weeks to complete essential business after the civil rights struggle is over. But they stress there would have to be late sessions to finish work in that time.

A man of wit and wisdom, Benjamin Franklin once quipped "If you would have guest merry with cheer, be so yourself or so appear."

says will amount to 21 cent per man hour. Part of this cost, a 3-cent cost-of-living adjustment, has been in effect since Feb. 1. Alcoa said wage increases for salaried employees, costs for purchases materials, transportation and other services figured in the hike of prices.

THE STORY: Blue Springs officials have picked a new marshal, Si Hanna, a gun fighter. Si's first act is to send word by Pike Ambrose to federal Marshal Harney Blanchard to get out of town. Harney has refused to leave till he gets back a prisoner who was kidnapped from him.

CHAPTER XIV

Blanchard pulled me into the dark on the porch. He looked down toward Carey's saloon. "You sure it's fight he wants?"

I nodded. I was pretty sure. It wasn't just talk. I knew how long a walk it would be for Si from the saloon. Enough time for a man to think a lot. I could see where he'd enjoy going up against Blanchard in one way. Staying what he was. But it was one thing to talk fight in the saloon and it was another thing to make a play.

Blanchard sat down and tipped back his hat. He pulled out his gun and broke it and ran a finger over the cylinder. "Pike, you get across the street behind some cover."

"No."

"Get across the street." The words slipped, one and turned me. I kicked the porch railing to show him I was mad but I didn't say any more. I went down the steps and looked toward Carey's and then walked across the street. I hunched behind a water barrel so that just my eyes and hat showed. Blanchard was a gray shape in the dark on the porch. I crouched until my knees hurt, then stood up.

Si Hanna came out of the saloon and started walking slow toward the hotel. I went down fast behind the barrel.

I looked at Blanchard. Just the gray shape over there, not moving yet. Si walked faster, a lot faster than I thought he'd come, his heels thumping loud on the planks. Fifteen feet from Blanchard, he stopped.

Two men drifted out of the saloon, walked south 20 feet on the boardwalk and then trotted across the street. Three more came out and stood close to the wall. Lights went out in two rooms on the second floor of the hotel. Then I heard Si.

"You've got to get out of town, marshal."

The words weren't too solid in Si's thin voice, but you knew he meant what he said. Then I heard Blanchard:

"Don't crowd me, follow. I'll listen if you've got good reasons. I'll go."

There was dead quiet then. Hanna moved and I thought it would happen but it didn't. Blanchard was still in the chair. Why didn't he get out of that chair? That was no way to be when you had to go for a gun. I wanted to yell at him but I couldn't.

Hanna said, "I'll be back in 10 minutes. You be gone."

Hanna turned and started away. I thought he was backing down. By the time he'd moved three steps I knew it was wrong but before I could yell, Hanna turned and his right hand dropped. Somebody yelled, "Stop it, boys!"

It was Jordan Peterson. He was running toward the hotel. I had to admit he had guts but he was too late.

I saw Peterson running and I saw the flame of Hanna's first shot and I heard a woman scream in the hotel. A shape moved on the porch up and up and then left the railing in a great arching leap. Two more shots slammed down from Hanna's gun. Blanchard hit the ground and rolled once and came to his knees in a stir of gray dust. The flame and the blast of noise came again, smashing against the buildings. I knew it was Blanchard's gun. Then I could yell and I did. Real loud. The stream of noise cracked against the walls and echoes and died out on the parlor. A patch of guano drifted slow in the wind by the hotel. Another settled in the street, moving slow away from Blanchard.

Si Hanna's gun flamed again.

Director Says Public Is Intelligent

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Fortunately for viewers interested in stimulating television, Henry Salomon, the newly appointed director of special projects for NBC-TV, is a young man who believes in the intelligence of the public.

"I believe that the so-called average man of 20 years ago has been supplanted by a much smarter one," he said the other day. "We can come to him and his fellows with respect. We plan to approach them all feeling there is no learning on earth, which they can't absorb. We're searching for the knowledge, the pleasures and the entertainments that are up on the present-day level of intellect."

Salomon and his staff are backing up these fine words with some fine deeds in the way of programming.

For one thing, the entertaining documentation of our times which Salomon began in "Victory At Sea" and has continued with his "Project 20" series will continue this season.

On Nov. 21 "Project 20" will present "The Innocent Years," an account of the almost forgotten period between 1900 and 1914 as recorded on film in that era. Also completed, though not yet scheduled, is "Back in the '30s," a 90-minute film story of American life between the stock market crash of 1929 and the outbreak of war in Europe 10 years later.

This, following last season's "The Jazz Age" and "The Great War," will complete a quartet of Salomon productions on the first 40 years of the century. But this is far from completing an examination of the century by "Project 20."

Next will come a series on the history of musical comedy in the 20th century, now planned for the 1958-59 season. Salomon plans six programs of an hour or longer dealing with each decade, through the number may be expanded as the plan develops.

Also projected is a four-part series based on Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass," which will, in Salomon's words, "be a vast, panoramic portrait of the United States as well go into the second half of the 20th century."

Blanchard said, "That was mighty foolish, Mr. Peterson. You take him now. He's yours. Don't ever say I alone killed him."

We went to the depot, me and Blanchard, and we were alone there. The depot was dark and I wondered if Conliffe had gone home.

The depot door was locked. We leaned against the wall in the cool dark. Rising wind bit through my shirt and I tried to keep from shivering. Blanchard hadn't said 10 words in the last hour, since Si Hanna died.

The headlight on the train was a nearing brightness, dipping into the prairie, then rising out.

Blanchard said, "Pike, I had to stand up to him."

"Sure you did, Harney."

"It's hard to tell sometimes. You don't know. Maybe you do it just for pride."

singers, notably Peggy Lee. Some music men believe that Frank has assembled a band that is a better musical aggregation than Glenn Miller or Tommy Dorsey ever had.

One Miller alumnus, who declines use of his name out of reverence to the famed maestro, believes the band that now backs Sinatra is better. He explains:

"Frank is able and willing to pay for the best men in the business — and the best men are here. These men are top artists of the big band era who didn't deteriorate by drink, disease or disaster. Glenn, Tommy and the rest never had such a pool to pick from."

The movie and television industries have lured the cream of the nation's musicians with better pay and shorter hours.

Music long has been a hobby with Frank. He has one of the biggest selections of classical recordings in town, and is well versed in the longhair aspects of his trade.

While thinking "Pal Joey" over at Columbia recently, Frank spent many of his off moments on an adjoining recording stage rehearsing his own band for a series of week-end concerts through the West and Southwest.

A reporter who visited several of the rehearsals discovered that Sinatra was the boss musician in

Building Projects to Get Rolling Again

ALBANY, Pa. (AP) — Construction engineers across the nation moved today to get major building projects rolling again as a crippling strike in the cement industry neared an end.

The 2½-month strike has halted or slowed work on military projects, roads, factories and housing worth more than a billion dollars. Tens of thousands of idled construction workers now can hope to start working again.

The log jam was broken yesterday with ratification of an agreement between one of the nation's largest cement producers and the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers.

"These guys behind me are so good that another conductor would just get in the way," he explains.

Music, Frank believes, is like anything else — you get what you pay for.

At the moment, Frank's albums are the most consistent top sellers in the business.

U. S. Traffic Deaths Show Slight Drop

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths in the first six months this year were 17,620, a decrease of 2 per cent compared with the first half of 1956, the National Safety Council said today.

The council said there were 18,020 deaths on the highways in the first six months of last year.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said the drop could not be attributed to less traffic.

"The latest available mileage figures," he said, "show highway travel was up 5 per cent over last year."

"We must conclude, therefore, that the improvement is due to better traffic behavior and to more vigorous and effective enforcement of traffic laws by public officials and traffic officers," Dearborn said. He predicted a total of 1,000 lives could be "saved" in 1957 year with the continued effort of every American in private or public capacity.

The council said 25 of the 47 states reporting had a decrease in fatalities for the first half-year. There were increases in 21 others and one state reported no change.

There were no traffic deaths reported during the six months in at least 205 of America's cities. The council identified the largest of these as Lynn, Mass.; Mount Vernon, N.Y.; and Racine, Wis.

Principal cities in a group of 434 reporting perfect records in June were Minneapolis, Ill., Oklahoma City and Norfolk, Va.

When Benjamin Franklin was president of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania he remarked: "Fear God and your enemies will fear you."

Big Ten Conducts Investigations

CHICAGO (AP) - The Big Ten athletic conference, in the wake of its one year suspension of Indiana football Coach Phil Dickens, is conducting investigations of numerous rumors and allegations of recruiting violations.

Commissioner K. L. (Tye) Willis said yesterday there are fewer complaints from Big Ten schools in general circulation under the new financial aid plan but there are more of them going directly into our office than in the past.

Willis said each report or allegation is being investigated and added that the rumors "involve every Big Ten institution."

Dickens was suspended after a meeting of faculty representatives Sunday for one year for offering illegal payments to prospective athletes. The group said that Dickens violated the financial aid plan adopted last February. That plan permits aid only on the basis of computed need and in no event may exceed the cost of board.

Tom Brewer, who has been a coach at the University of Illinois, was suspended for a year for allegedly offering a $500 bribe to a player to join the team.

Harry Fennell, who plays the full back and is a star player for the team, was suspended for a year for allegedly offering a $500 bribe to a player to join the team.

PAINTED WITH SAND - Yves M. Offret, Provo Canyon, Utah, displays two samples of his sand art which he "painted" using the colorful sands of his native Utah. Flat, non-removable sandpaintings are common in Paris, but Offret, a 74-year-old resort manager, claims that his sand pictures are the only ones which can be turned upside down without getting out of shape. After constructing a simple natural wood frame with double glass spaced about two inches apart, Offret carefully makes the picture from the bottom up, using colored sand and following up gradually with plain sand for support until frame is full and then sealed. Everything must be kept completely dry throughout the "painting" operation. The "painting" at left is "The Delicate Arch," South Utah; the one at right, "The Great White Throne," Zion National Park, Utah.

Mizell's Comeback Big Help to the Cardinals

By ED WILKS
Of The Associated Press

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, who has been either very good or very bad for looks as though he has his "comeback" in the bag as the St. Louis Cardinals continue to put the pressure on Milwaukee in that National League pennant race.

He went 11 innings to beat Cincinnati 4 and pitch the Cardinals into the lead July 5. At it was he who gave up that grand slam home run to Gil Hodges in the 18th inning at Brooklyn July 18, as the Dodgers beat the Cards in 11 and dumped them out of first place.

Last night, the 26-year-old lefty did all he could to help regain the lead, pitching a 10-inning shutout to beat Pittsburgh 4-0. It was his eighth victory - and third shutout - in 10 games for the Cards, who stayed a four-run ninth-inning rally and then pushed over a 10th-inning run to beat the New York Giants 9-8.

That left the Braves three percentage points ahead of the Cards and put them two games up on the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Cards' hold on third place was shaved to half a game as the Philadelphia Phillies, behind Robin Roberts' four-hitter, defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-0.

In the American, southpaw Billy Pierce won his 15th with a four-hitter as the second-place Chicago White Sox trimmed Baltimore 5-0. Boston beat Cleveland 6-1 in the only other game scheduled.

Only two men reached base against Mizell, who gave up a single to Dick Groat and a double to Frank Thomas with two out in the fourth, then counted Roman Mejia among his six strikeouts to end the frame. It was the third victory of the month for Mizell, who moved into July with a 1-0 record. Now he's 4-7.

Wally Moon drove in two runs for the Cards, who managed just two runs, one unearned, off Charley (Whammy) Douglas' despite seven walks in five innings for the young, one-eye right-hander called up from Columbus of the American Association Sunday.

The Braves made it 11 out of 15 with a bases-loaded, two-out walk in the 10th after scoring four in the ninth to get a tie. Del Crandall's 13th homer triggered the rally, which brought the tying run home on an error. Two walks sandwiched Crandall's single in the 10th before Felix Mantilla pinch-hitting in his first appearance since a July 11 injury, worked losing relief for Al Worthington for the payoff pass on a 2-2 pitch.

Wes Covington's two-run homer had given starter Warren Spahn a 2-2 lead in the fourth, but Roy runs by Darrel Spender and Roy Johnson homered to chase the lefty and Willie Mays then homered for a 5-4 New York lead before the G-Men added three more in the ninth. Bob Throneberg was hit by the Braves.

Roberts was at his best winning his second in a row - after seven straight defeats - for the Phillies, who gained a 4-3 record. He walked three and struck out six, while gaining his first shutout since July 14, 1956.

Rookie Harry Anderson, who had three singles, drove in two runs for the Phils, tagged Don Elston with the defeat with a first-inning sacrifice fly.

Pierre, the top winner in the majors, walked home and struck out six as the Sox junked Red Brown's 10-1 shutout with three runs in the sixth on two walks and singles by Alvin Moore and Louis Aparicio.

Tom Brewer, who has been a coach at the University of Illinois, was suspended for a year for allegedly offering a $500 bribe to a player to join the team.

Beating Jackson Suffered Sends Him to Hospital

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK (UP) - Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, defeated last night in the bout for the world championship heavyweight title, was taken in Meadowbrook Hospital in East Meadow, N.Y. for examination shortly after 6 a.m. today.

Doctors at the hospital said they would have no statement to make on his condition until the examination was completed. It was not revealed why Jackson entered the hospital.

Jackson was floored three times in last night's fight with champ Floyd Patterson, who won by a technical knockout in his first defense of the title.

"I should have put him away early for the full count instead of letting him last for a TKO in the 10th," said the 22-year-old champ, who stretched his winning string to 19 straight before 15, 101 at the Polo Grounds.

"But I hadn't fought in eight months. Since winning the title against Archie Moore - and I was rusty."

He promised, "I'm going to defend the title three or four times a year to keep rust away, starting with Pete Rademacher next month."

The poker-faced youngster who floored Jackson three times and battered him into a helpless, bloody wreck, said he would be delighted to defend next against Olympic Champion Rademacher, an amateur, at Seattle, Wash., on Aug. 22.

He'll get a guarantee of $250,000 for that defense. He received only a $175,000 guarantee for his lopsided blasting of Jackson who wasn't credited with a single round by Referee Ruby Goldstein.

The two judges, or the United Press.

And little Emil Lence, the first independent promoter to stage a heavyweight title fight in 20 years, looked past the Rademacher bout and hoped to use Patterson in two or three defenses in New York - perhaps one or two in a "big armory during the cold months."

Dress-maker Lence said, "I have established a beachhead with this fight although the gate was disappointing because of the threat of bad weather yesterday and the long betting odds."

LAKE OUCHITTA: Water clear; crappie fair; bream good on crickets and worms; black bass fair on artificial and live baits.

NORFOLK LAKE: Water clear; catfish fair on trot lines with all baits; bream fair; bass and crappie fair on artificial and live baits early and late.

BULL SHOALS LAKE: Water clear and falling; catfish good on throw and willow lures; bass fair on jigs, eels and crawfish; bream and bluegill good on popping bugs and fly rods; fair to good on live minnows.

LAKE CONWAY: Water clear; bream good on worms, crickets and popping bugs; bass and crappie slow.

NARROWS LAKE: Fishing poor.

Manager of Jackson Is Down on Him

NEW YORK (AP) - The fighting future of Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson was shrouded in doubt today after the fierce beating he took in his abortive try to lift the heavyweight championship from Floyd Patterson.

"His manager, Lippy Breidbart, obviously was down on him, for the Hurricane again disobeyed instructions from his corner last night and as a result," Referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the scheduled 15-round bout in the 10th after Jackson had been down three times.

Would he permit Jackson to go on fighting? Breidbart was asked in the sweltering dressing room later.

"That's up to the fighter," he snapped, avoiding the use of Jackson's name.

Then Breidbart warmed up to the subject.

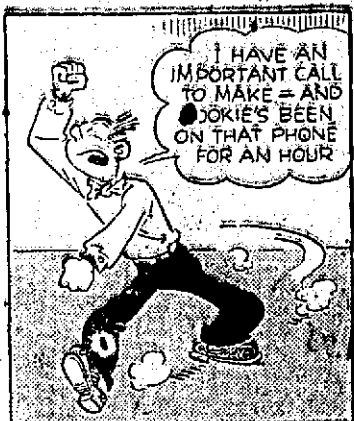

"He disobeyed my instructions again," he barked. "I told him to 'wade in' and keep low. If he had done that, he would have won the fight. But, no, he has ideas of his own, so he hangs back and waits to throw what he thinks is Sunday punch."

The Hurricane sat disconsolately on the training table and stared bleakly at the floor. For all the battering he took, he carried few scars. He was a beaten fighter.

"He put up a feeble beef at Referee Goldstein who stopped it. He shouldn't have stopped it. He shouldn't have stepped in," said the Hurricane. "If I had been hurt, I would have told him I don't know if I would have beaten him if it had gone 15 rounds. I'd like to fight him again. He's an improved fighter."

As for Patterson, he appeared as though he had just gone 10 fast rounds with a sparring partner in training. He, too, sat on
